

Reproduction

29 August 2017 saw the entry into force of Italian Law no. 124 of 04 August 2017, which, in art. 1, paragraph 171, letter a), and letter 6), nos. 1) and 2), modified art. 108, paragraphs 3 and 3-bis, of the Cultural Heritage Code (Italian Legislative Decree no. 42 of 22 January 2004), and therefore the photocopying procedures as follows and as illustrated also in Archives General Management circular no. 33/2017 [1] :

- paragraph 3: «No fee will be owed for reproductions requested or made by private parties for personal use or study purposes, or by public or private parties for cultural promotion purposes, provided this is done on a non-profit basis. In any event, applicants are required to reimburse the costs incurred by the administration».

- paragraph 3 bis: «In any case, the following activities may be performed freely, on a non-profit basis, for the purposes of study, research, free speech or creative expression, promotion of awareness of cultural heritage:

1) the reproduction of cultural property other than archival property subject to restrictions on consultation pursuant to chapter III of this title, carried out in respect of copyright and using procedures that do not involve any physical contact with the cultural property, nor its exposure to light sources, nor, within cultural institutions, the use of stands or tripods.

2) the dissemination by any means of images of cultural property, legitimately acquired, in a way that prevents further reproduction for profit».

Photocopies using your own resources may therefore be made freely, within the limits laid down by law, directly at your own table in the study room, for the documents being consulted.

The officials at the Reggio Emilia State Archives will supervise to ensure that no inappropriate reproduction procedures are employed that may risk damaging the documents.

- However, reproducing entire series of archives requires authorisation.
- Users are required to file a digital copy of the reproductions with the Institution.
- The tariffs applied to remote digital transfers and remote reproduction requests are hereby confirmed, as are those for reproduction for publishing purposes or requests for reproduction for study purposes made at the Archives by persons who do not intend to use their own resources. In these cases, a prior request must be submitted using the relevant form [2] .

The person concerned, who take photographs or who request electronic downloading from this institution's official database for a fee, pay the following fees:
